

IT Training and Education Services

Sine Nomine Associates offers a wide variety of training courses. All courses are conducted by experts who not only have taught this material before, but also can draw on years of experience developing and deploying the technologies covered in the knowledge transfer. This ensures exceptional value to our customers.

All classes are conducted at the customer's site. Sine Nomine Associates develops and customizes courses to meet each customer's specific needs. This tailored approach allows for vivid discussion of the client's unique situation, as well as for hands-on training on the client's system. Custom course design and delivery are available upon request.
